

We welcome a new care expert in our Huddersfield Office

Childcare specialist Anna Bridson has joined Wilkinson Woodward's continually expanding Huddersfield office as a consultant solicitor.

Anna, who is originally from New Zealand but now lives in Huddersfield, has over 14 years' experience in private and local authority family and care law.

Speaking of her appointment she said: "I am pleased to have been selected to join Wilkinson Woodward's highly regarded team of lawyers, and I look forward to helping the firm expand upon its delivery of professional yet personable legal services."

Wilkinson Woodward managing partner Maureen Cawthorn added: "Whilst our practice is over 100 years old, it is important for us to provide a fresh and progressive service to all of our clients throughout Kirklees and Calderdale, and beyond.

"To recruit a solicitor of Anna's calibre is therefore a vital part of our continued yet considered expansion strategy."

With offices on Queen Street and in Halifax town centre, Wilkinson Woodward now has eight partners and an additional 15 fee-earning staff. The firm's areas of specialism include family and childcare as well as a wide range of other services including employment, property work, crime, personal injury and wills and probate.
